From the COO of $70M Company

Nick, I just finished reading Future@Work. I enjoyed it thoroughly; it contains a lot of common sense which seems to be missing at a number of levels in our workplace. As I read it, I could not help but be reminded of a number of specific employees. With this in mind, I would like to order "X" copies. They will be dispensed as required reading as soon as they are received. Future@Work chapters will then become part of our performance review process. Thanks for a writing such a great performance improvement tool.
